

BIOGRAPHIES

Jack and Caroline are a father / daughter team – knowledge professionals with over 35 years of real estate experience in Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Selling a home is complex, especially in today's dynamic market. The Schlendorfs will guide you every step of the way to make your transaction is pleasant, understandable and successful. Their skilled negotiating strategies, constant follow-up and ethical standards give their clients an advantage in the marketplace.

They will show you exactly how to improve your property to increase your gain with their customized marketing, positioning and pricing strategies. When this is combined with Pacific Union's and Christie's Great Estates' global marketing reach, you are assured the best possible outcome.

Caroline has been a Realtor® for 14 years and a broker since 2005. Her success in real estate has included experience in corporate relocation assisting transferring families, managing an award winning real estate office, and a large base of loyal clients. Clients benefit from her negotiating skills and her understanding and use of Internet marketing. Caroline is the mother of three sons, ages 16 and 18 (yes, the 16 year olds are twins) who attend local school and are very active in athletics.

Jack is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines and received his MBA in Marketing from the University of Washington. He has been a real estate broker since 1973, serving a large residential client base. He also has significant experience and success in the commercial marketplace, representing buyers and sellers and managing small office buildings. Jack and Caroline have been residents of Contra Costa County since 1971.
